WIDOW GRANTED $6,000 FOR DEATH OF HER HUSBAND KILLED IN SOUTHERN PACIFIC YARDS

A jury in the superior court on Wednesday rendered a verdict in favor of Mrs. Mary Dunne for $6000 in a suit against the United States Railroad Administration to recover damages for the death of her husband who was struck by a string of freight cars on the Southern Pacific Company in yards of the Pacific Coast Steel Company at South San Francisco in August 23, 1918.

Judge Benjamin Knight of Santa Cruz sat in the case for Judge Buck. E. F. Fitzpatrick and Archer Kincaid appeared for the railroad company while Ross and Ross and Robert H. Borland represented Mrs. Dunne.

This was the second trial of the case, a jury formerly having awarded the plaintiff $15,000 damages before Judge J. L. Hudner of San Benito county. A new trial was granted by Judge Hudner on account of error in instructions to the jury. The plaintiff took the matter to the supreme court of the state, where Judge Hudner was sustained and a new trial ordered.

REGULAR MEETING OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, April 18, 1921, at 10 a. m.

Attorney Lee T. Ross appeared before the board and presented a petition signed by Mrs. Phyllis M. Merrill and a large number of other residents of Menlo Park, protesting against the establishment, operation and maintenance of any hospital on the Marcus property at the corner of Oak Grove avenue and the Middlefield Road at the above place, and asking that the application of Mrs. L. Broniscoe, presented at a former meeting, for permission to conduct such an establishment for the care of aged and convalescent persons on the above property be denied. The petitioners stated that they felt that a hospital conducted there would be detrimental and injurious to the health and welfare, as well as the comfort of the residents of the community.

Attorney Ross after reading the petition addressed the board in the matter, explaining that the site of the proposed hospital is in the very center of the cream of the residential section of Menlo Park. He argued that if the permit were granted by the supervisors, it might be possible for the owners of the institution to bring in under the permit, persons suffering from nervous and other similar diseases. Attorney Ross called attention to the reading of the county ordinance which says that the board cannot grant a permit for the establishment of a hospital where the establishment and maintenance of such an institution will be detrimental to the health and comfort of the inhabitants of any particular community in hte county.

Timothy Hopkins and Edward Hopkins, both signers to the petition read by Attorney Ross, also addressed the board in opposition to the granting of the permit.

Mrs. Broniscoe addressed the board in the matter and stated that she intended to conduct the hospital purely as an institution for aged people and in a manner that would not be detrimental in any way to the health and comfort of the community. She said that she had been advised by her attorneys that it was not necessary to come before the supervisors and ask for a permit for a hospital such as she intended conducting, but that she did so out of fairness to all.

District Attorney Swart being called in the hearing, said he doubted if the present hospital ordinance covered the situation, but that he believed that there were former county ordinance passed that makes it necessary for persons to make application to the board of supervisors for permits to conduct any kind of a hospital. Personally, Swart said, that while appreciating the urgent need of caring for the sick and aged, he was opposed to the establishment of hospitals in thickly settled residential districts. He further stated that he would recommend that the supervisors pass an ordinance making it necessary for permits to be secured from the board for conducting any kind of a hospital in the county.

Following the statement of the district attorney, Mrs. Broniscoe, at the suggestion of Supervisor Brown, asked permission to withdraw her application. The request was granted, on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey.

Miss Edna Holroyd, county librarian, appeared before the board and stated that she was urgently in need of a trained assistant for her office and that the services of Miss Lalla Bedford, former assistant, are again available. Miss Holroyd recommended the appointment of Miss Bedford at a salary of $110 a month. The recommendation was approved, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey. Miss Bedford is to begin her duties on May 1.

L. H. Luken, representative of the Church of the Advent, addressed the board and explained that plans were under way for the establishment of an Adventist Academy in the Alpine district, this county, on what is known as the Haskins ranch, and he wished to ascertain what the possibilities were of the county repairing the Alpine road to the above ranch. Supervisor MacBain informed Luken that there would be no money in the Third Road fund this year for any further improvements on this thoroughfare other than had already been done.

Mrs. Sybil Paulsen of Tunitas, on the coastside of the county, complained to the board of the inconveniences she is suffering through automobile tourists and others leaving gates open in driving over the county road from her place to the beach. She asked that the board take steps to fence the road on either side in order to keep cattle from roaming over her land. On motion of Hickey, seconded by Mrs. Brown, the matter was referred to Chairman Thompson, in whose district the property is located, to go over the situation and see what is best to be done. Engineer Kneese was at the same time instructed to look into the matter of constructing a new road near the Paulsen place to obviate the repairing of a bridge.

R. F. Chilcott presented a petition signed by Asa E. Hull and others, asking for abandonment of Magnolia avenue and other streets in San Carlos. The petition was received and filed, on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor Brown, and a hearing in the matter was set for Monday, May 2, 1921, at 10 a. m.

Supervisor MacBain addressed the board and stated that he had requested the janitors of the courthouse to appear at the meeting to discuss certain conditions around the building that had been called to his attention. He said there seemed to be some dispute among the janitors as to who was responsible for certain work as a result of which some offices and parts of the building were being neglected. After hearing from three of the janitors, George Eikerenkotter, Dave Moore and Manuel Simmons, as to the nature of their work and their respective duties, and it being apparent that the whole trouble was largely a matter of inharmony and misunderstanding, it was decided on motion of Hickey, seconded by Francis, to refer the matter to the courthouse committee to straighten out.

Supervisor Hickey addressed the board relative to the holding of public dances in the north end of the county. He said that several months ago two young men had come to him and asked permission to conduct a dance at Colma. Finding no county ordinance covering the situation, he explained that he granted the permission with the understanding that the dances would be properly conducted. Now, he said, undesirables were coming in from San Francisco and there is a great deal of complaints about disturbances in connection with the dances. Supervisor Hickey favored the adoption of an ordinance of some kind that would make it necessary to secure a permit before a public dance could be held. After some little discussion as to just how the proposed ordinance should be, the matter was laid over until the next meeting.

Harry Hatch of San Mateo appeared before the supervisors in the matter of a claim of his that had been rejected by the supervisors at the last meeting, covering the rental of a building at San Mateo for a branch county jail. He said he had never been notified that the use of the building for jail purposes had been discontinued, nor had the key been returned to him.

Chairman Thompson said that when the claim was presented to the board a year ago, and allowed it was done so with the understanding that it would be the last one. The matter was laid over until the next meeting so Mrs. Nash, the clerk, could look up the minutes and see just what action had been taken.

Mrs. Nash read a telegram from the Cherdron Construction Company, asking for a set of plans and specifications for the new county hospital. Mrs. Nash explained that she had referred the telegram to Architect Toepke, who answered the message and explained that all the plans were out and that he was unable to comply with the request. A second communication from the firm was then read by Mrs. Nash, again asking for a set of the plans.

On motion of Hickey, seconded by Mrs. Brown, the architect was requested to send a set to the company as soon as possible.

On motion of Hickey, County Engineer George A. Kneese was directed to give an estimate of the cost of resurfacing with two coats of oil, the road from Pescadero to the Santa Cruz county line in the Fifth township.

The board ratified the action of the courthouse committee in appointing J. Donohoe gardener at the courthouse in place of Wm. Sharon who resigned the position.

A family paper for home people.

The Social Service class at Stanford visited the office of the secretary of the Social Service at the court house during the week to secure some practical experience. They looked over the files in the office, investigated workings and visited the detention home, county hospital and public clinic. There are about 30 in the class. ARRESTED FOR ALLEGED LIBEL ON NEWSRAPER

There was a peculiar case at San Bruno in which the defendant, Wm. Mauer, was arrested last Friday for an alleged libel on a newspaper man of that city. The defendant was brought into the Recorder's Court by the marshal and the magistrate without taking any testimony held the defendant to appear before the Superior Court without bail, and he was at once taken to Redwood City without even knowing what he was arrested for. He secured counsel at once and a writ of habeas corpus issued, and Maurer was permitted to go home without going to jail. The matter was heard Thursday before Judge Buck, who upon hearing the surprising statement of counsel, at once discharged the defendant. It seems wonderful things are happening all the time at San Bruno.

ATTEMPT TO CHANGE THE STATE SCHOOL AWS

Another attempt to secure legislative action that will seriously effect high school boundary lines and make it possible for any one part of a school district in one county to withdraw and join a high school district in another county was killed last Monday night when the Educational Committee at Sacramento reported unfavorable on Humes Assembly bill The bill is similar to Senate bill No. 309, introduced by Senator Jones of Santa Clara, and which met a similar fate at the hands of the above committee two weeks ago. County Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud and L. P. Behrens, president of the board of trustees of the Sequoia Union High School district appeared again before the committee in opposition to the bill. These two men returned to Sacramento Wednesday night, when another Senate bill, providing for the organization of new high school districts within old districts was to be heard by the Educational Committee.

Roy W. Cloud returned to Sacramento on Thursday afternoon and went before the committee. He delivered an able address showing the injustice of the proposed act. In a dispatch to D. E. O'Keefe, secretary of the Sequoia Union High School, received late last evening, it was intimated that the bill would again meet defeat.

The resignation of Edward Dearborn, superintendent of streets, of Redwood City, presented at the last meeting of the town council will be accepted at the next meeting of the board. The street committee has already a number of applicants for the contemplated vacancy.

SENATOR SHORTRIDGE MADE ABLE SPEECH LAST TUESDAY

Senator Samuel M. Shortridge made his maiden speech in the United States Senate last Tuesday on behalf of the ratification of the Colombian treaty. It was the effort of his life.

His eloquence made a deep impression upon the veteran members of that august body. After his speech he was congratulated by Senator Lodge, Vice-president Coolidge and other prominent members of the senate.

He talked for an hour to the largest gallery yet gathered to hear a speech since the days of the famous league of nations debates when the country was approaching the "solemn referendum." Furthermore, there was the largest attendance on the floor at any time since the Senate convened. Almost the entire membership listened attentively during the entire speech. Senator Shortridge said in part:

A proposed treaty—this proposed amended treaty—with Colombia has been elaborately discussed here and elsewhere. I cannot, I do not presume to throw any new light into our counsel. There was a solemn referendum participated in by the American people on November 2, 1920.

The overwhelming verdict of the people called to the chair of Washington a luminous-minded statesman who entered upon the discharge of his duties with a heart devoted and a mind consecrated to the service of our country.

Rise Above Bias.

He was the Republican candidate, but when on March 4 in your presence and in the presence of the American people he took that sacred oath, registered here and in heaven, he became, he is, the President of the United States, and faithful to that oath, he rises above all unworthy party prejudice and thinks and acts as he has ever thought and acted of America, for America, her welfare and her glory. And thus we stand and thus may we ever stand unshackeled, untrammeled, unafraid and unashamed. Conscious of our strength but ever mindful of our duty to the world, we do not fear the frown of power, nor do we turn a deaf ear to the complaint of weakness.

Let us have peace, let us have reconciliation, let us have peace and reconsiliation with all lands.

The issue is of today, not of yesterday. The question to be put is Shall we now concur in making—in consummating—this agreement, this treaty, whereby a long-pending controversy between two republics, one powerful, one weak, shall be definitely adjusted and forever settled?

Stand With President

With unfeigned respect for the opinion of others, and according to them the purest motives, I take my stand beside the President of the United States and shall concur in entering into this treaty with Colombia.

Let us have reconciliatioin with Colombia—peace with all lands. A ratification of this proposed treaty will reflect no dishonor on the dead, will cast no discredit on the living; it will advantage us directly and indirectly; it will restore faith and confidence in the mind of many who doubt our sincerity and question our justice; it will strengthen us in days of peace and buttress should danger menace, which God forbid.

Above all, it will end debate, crimination and recrimination; it will silence hostile criticism, just or unjust; it will frustrate the designs of power whose commercial interests are identical to ours; it will be a shield to protect the great work of the great American who sleeps in the loving, grateful memory of his countrymen.

World Brotherhood.

Have no misgivings, Mr. President doubt it not—it will restore friendly, helpful relations between us and Colombia and contribute mightily toward strengthening the bonds which unite us and all the American republics in a new world brotherhood to the works and arts of peace.

A condition and not a theory confronts us—the wise words of an American statesman. I remember yesterday, but I am thinking of today, of tomorrow and tomorrow of the long years to come. I am thinking of the Philippines, of the Hawaiian islands, of Alaska. I am thinking of California and the prophecy of William Henry Seward, and I am thinking of the Panama canal, its approaches from the east and from the west, and of the benefits that shall flow to us from its perpetual and uninterrupted ownership and control by the United States of America.

Entering New Era

We are entering upon a new era. Let it be an era of reconcillation and peace. Let America set a great and beneficial example, disavowing any intentional wrong and confidently relying on the impartial verdict of mankind as to the rectitude of our acts and purposes measured in the court of conscience or weighed in international forum, let us ratify this treaty and thereby put at rest a controversy which has too long disturbed our counsels, and by so doing recement that friendship which is unhappily strained and may be broken. Let us place another stone in the temple of peace.

"SPEED" DAWES

Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the commission to inquire into government relief for soldiers, is displaying an ability to yank the red tape out of government which makes gentlemen of the old school sit up and gasp. Dawes believes in extending relief before the proposed beneficiaries die of old age. At a recent meeting of the commission he broke into an academic argument with, "For God's sake, let's get through today! Let's don't get jobbed up with a lot of extraneous matter. We know an intolerable condition exists. Everybody does. What we want is speed. Our job is to provide the machinery. We are not concerned with details." To paraphrase Nelson, "don't argue, boys, the poor fellows are suffering."

Mr. Dawes stood firmly against the extension of discussions when a controversy arose is to the number of hospital beds which might be available for ailing service men. "We are going to stay right here without lunch until this thing is finished," he declared, "and then we are going into executive session and prepare a report for the President." They stayed. The commission concluded its inquiry in jig time and the report recommends consolidation under one head of all government bureaus dealing with soldier relief.

There was a famous football trainer whose tactics in overcoming difficulties and whipping his team into shape to win victories are recalled by the Dawes methods of getting results. They called the trainer "Hurry Up" Yost. His teams went through the opposition line with dispatch and eclat, working like a high-power dynamo of efficiency. That is the style of play we must have in government, and the public approves the 'pep' of "Speed" Dawes.

SAMUEL M. SHORTRIDGE IS A STRONG FAVORITE.

An interesting column appears every Sunday in the San Francisco Chronicle written by C. B. Dodds from Washington concerning local politics which is eagerly read by all politicians. Mr. Dodds up until a short time ago was the local political writer for the Chronicle. During the last campaign he did splendid work for the republican party in this state. He was given full swing on the Chronicle. His articles were read by thousands throughout the state. Though a very young man Mr. Dodds is accounted one the cleverest political writers in the country. He is fully acquainted with men and measures and knows whereof he writes. When Senator Shortridge went to Washington last February he took Mr. Dodds with him a shis secretary. He is a young man of pleasing personality who will make good at the National Capital. Last Sunday the following article appeared in the Chronicle:

If there was a dope sheet on the political big league in Washington it would show Samuel M. Shortridge's batting average still at 1000. In other words, he has smashed the ball for a hit every time he swung his bat. Followers of the popular idol, Babe Ruth, please take notice.

The Senator doesn't always swing every time the ball comes toward the plate. He knows the pitcher is going to toss a few balls as well as a strike once in a while, but when he has pushed that bat of his across the plate it has always connected.

Ready Response Found.

Whether it was an increase in a pension from some aged Civil War veteran who has been trying for months to get action, but found he couldn't even get answers to his letters; whether it was demanding instant action on a passport from the slow-moving chiefs who do not like to be hurried, or whether it was accomplishing something of importance, the door of official Washington has always opened when Senator Shortridge knocked.

A story told by a writer in the Senate restaurant may explain the reason. This waiter serves a table in the exclusive section where only members of the upper house may dine. He told the following story to the negro messenger in the Shortridge office:

"That man Shortridge you've got sure is a comer here. The Vice-President and Senator Lodge had lunch with several other Senators today and they talked about Shortridge for half an hour, and they sure think he is a comer. He certainly is in good with the right crowd."

That story is as true and as accurately reported as it is humanly possible to retell an incident and it explains in a measure, why the word has gone around that Shortridge is to be given anything he asks for.

California at Top

A glancing over the list of House committee assignments shows that no State in the Union fared better than California. California is represented on more important committees in proportion to the size of its delegation than any other state, and, better still, it has representation on all committees that affect its interests. This little detail was looked after by Congressman Julius Kahn, who is California's representative on the House Committee on Committees of which each state has one member, and it serves as an illustration of the advantage of service a State gets by returning representative to the House and keeping them there.

California will have an advocate on the committee that will take up the Japanese question, whether it is the Immigration Committee or the one on Foreign Relations. Congressman Free of San Jose is on the immigration Committee and Congressman Lineberger of Long Beach on the Foreign Affairs Committee. Rivers and harbors matters can be dealt with through Congressman Osborne of Los Angeles, who is on that committee. Congressman Elston of Oakland is on the important Appropriations Committee. Congressman Nolan of San Francisco is the new chairman of the Labor Committee and is also on the vitally important steering committee. Flood control is in the hands of Congressman Curry of Sacramento, who is also chairman of the Committee on Territories. Of course, Congressman Kahn remains os chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, one of the most important committees in the House, but that is to be expected in view of his long work on that committee and in view of the additional fact that there are only nine men in the House who have served longer than he. Congressman Barbour of Fresno has two important committee assignments that affect California—Public Lands and Irrigation and the Census.

Reappointment Plans.

In response to a request from the Speaker o fthe California Assembly that the California delegation in Congress make a recommendation on the problem of reapportioning Congressional districts as a result of the 1919 census, a decision has been reached and is now in the hands of the State lawmakers that will have to pass the necessary legislation. Two proposals were submitted as a result of numerous conferences just ended, all of which were attended by State Chairman Raymond Benjamin. Three contingencies will have to be provided for if the Legislature takes action before adjournment, as it will not be known before that time how many new Congressmen California is entitled to. Two proposals covering these contingencies have been submitted. One provides for the passage of three bills and the other provides for the inclusion of all three contingencies in a single measure. The bills can be so arranged that the proper apportionment will become effective whether the State get three, four or five new Representatives in Congress.

The whole country now knows of Senator Shortridge's move to insist on the use of American-made products wherever obtainable in governmental affairs. He started his fight when he discovered his official stationery had been printed on Japanese bond paper, and when he saw British-made soap furnished exclusively in all Capitol and office building lavatories. He has collected data on other infractions of what he believes is the right policy to pursue in this regard, details of which he is not making public at this time, but which he will take up with the proper governmental agencies and make a violent protest.

Press Takes Notice

The Senator's Japanese paper and British soap protest was published and prominenti ydisplayed in hundreds of daily papers, some of which commented editorially on the subject in a most favorable tone. "Why wasn't this matter taken up long ago?" many ask. The comment of the Wilkesbarre (pa.) Record follows:

"At the last election a gentleman by the name of Shortridge ran for the Senate in California. This gentleman announced himself as standing for Americanism of the 100 per cent kind. He declared that he would see to it if elected that the Japanese were kept off th Pacific Coast. His platform was anti-Japanese, he appealed to the anti-Japanese sentiment in his State, and and anti-Japanese constituency gaev him sufficient votes to send him to Washington. Upon his arrival at the capital he secured his office room and sat down to write some letters of thanks to the folks back home on his new Government stationery. This stationery had a very handsome engraved title, namely, United States Senator,' before the name of Shortridge. So much enamored was this California statesman that he picked up a sheet and held it at arm's length. Uuon doing so there came into view the water-marked words on the sheet 'Japanese Bond.' A Washington correspondent insists that the action following was so violent that the head of the gentleman from California connected with the ceiling, at least we draw this conclusion from his statement, which is that 'the Senator went into the air,' and we suppose there was a ceiling over him. It looked like the irony of fate for a man of violent anti-Japanese sentiments, representing an anti-Japanese State, to go to Washington pledged to fight everything Japanese and upon his arrival find his Uncle Sam hobnobbing with the Mikado to the extent that he bought his paper of him for the official correspondence of his family at Washington."

Wonder of the perusal of the Lansing book has interfered with that "stead improvement" of the ex-President our old friend Grayson was always talking about.

Reports show that American trade with Europe and South America experienced a big decrease in February compared with the same month a year ago. There is plenty of opportunity for Mr. Hoover to show his mettle in discovering and applying a remedy.

It is evident that the Harding Administration is giving serious consideration to the freeing of Debs. If that voluble gentleman will promise to stop his struggle to attain the impossible — the overthrow of the American government—there is no reason why he should not be permitted his fgreedom.

The democratic party will have to do a lot more than reorganize before it will regain confidence of the country. A party that tolerated Wilsonism for eight years has something fundamentally wrong with it.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

The attractive home of Mrs. Theodore F. Payne on Valparaiso avenue was sold this week to Leon Douglas who maintains a modest country place at San Rafael. The Payne home is one of the show places of the peninsula. It has no equal in this section of the state. The estate consists of 55 acres of land and a beautiful house built of reinforced concrete, planned by Mrs. Payne. The construction of the building began in 1909 and was completed in 1914. The owner went to Europe at three different times during the construction of the biulding to select the costly furniture and fixtures which adorn the interior of the castle like home. The georgeous tapestry, costly rugs and elaborate furnishings are fit to adorn the home of the gods. The elegant grounds are in keeping with the dwelling. Spacious lawns, flower beds and ornamental trees surround the building showing the landscape gardeners' skill, the beautiful vista being set off by well-selected statuary here and there around the grounds. The house and land cost Mrs. Payne approximately $500,000, the greater portion of this big sum going into the house. Mrs. Payne contemplates going to Europe in June for an indefinite period. In the meantime she may reside at either Burlingame or San Mateo. Mrs. Payne has been a good and considerate neighbor and always ready with her purse to assist all loocal affairs, having for their object the betterment of the village. She carries with her the very best wishes of the people of Menlo Park. Mr. Douglas is a multi-millionaire head of the Victor Talking Machine and the inventor of the process of taking pictures in their natural colors. He is to take possession of the place this month. The Payne domicile adjoins the estates of Mrs. Florence Moore and Senator Shortridge.

Mr. Dunphy is enegeged in business in San Francisco.

A "Forty-Nine" entertainment and ball was given under the auspices of Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W., Thursday night in Native Sons' hall. A large audience greeted the performance. Dr. Whitewolf, who was an Indian chief in his younger days, delivered an interesting lecture on the "Life and Habits of the Indian," introducing an Indian wedding, war songs, war dances and religious hymns. The doctor was loud in his praises of the Indian mother who took such good care of her offspring and the obedience of the children. After the performance the doctor was congratulated by his friends for his splendid efforts.

General Morrison, who trained the Eighth Division at Camp Fremont, will retire from the army very soon. He is now in the east and intends to come here and buy a home in which he will spend the remainder of his days. The General was well-known and liked here. He was a strict disciplinarian and as a result his division was the best fitted for battle of any division in the country. Had the war lasted a few months longer the Eighth would have given a good account of itself on the battle fields of France. The Division was out at sea on its way to France when the armistice was signed.

The Inman home on Oak Grove avenue formerly the J. B. Leonard place, has been leased for a year to San Francisco parties who will move in on Monday.

Mrs. Frank Derry will be hostess on Saturday at a luncheon to be given at her home to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Finn of San Francisco. Mr. Finn is the popular sheriff of that city and the leader in the republican party. He has a host of friends in Menlo Park.

Golf enthusiasts of Menlo Park have joined hands with Palo Alto, Los Altos and Stanford for the purpose of completing the reorganization of the Stanford Golf and Country Club, which disbanded when this country entered the world war. The links west of San Juan Hill have been surveyed and plans are to be made to condition them and to erect a club house.

A sanitarium for convalescent persons is to be established here if a permit can be secured from the board of supervisors. The application for such a permit is to be made at the meeting of the board next Monday. Should the project go through one of the attractive residences here is to be taken over by a corporation and converted into an up-to-date sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle's friends in this community, where they lived so long, wish them many returns of the day.

Miss Frances Casey, a former resident of this place visited friends here on Wednesday. Miss Casey is one of the leaders of society in the metropolis and is very popular in her society set.

The famous Bohemian quartet regaled the guests by their sweet songs while Roy Folger, the prince of entertainers, was at his best in his specialties. Prominent Psychologist Coming

Dr. E. L. House Will Present Two Notable Lectures at Chautauqua on Fifth Day

An outstanding lecture event of the coming Chautauqua will be the appearance of Dr. E. L. House, one of the most noted psychologists of the country. There is probably no lecturer in the land today in greater demand than Dr. House. During the past year he has undoubtedly addressed more people than any lecturer in Lyceum and Chautauqua work. He is a big man with a big message. He is a widely read author; his books having passed the hundred thousand in sales. His two lectures on the fifth day will be among the longest remembered events of the assembly.

The Liberty Belles of Boston

Three Talented and Vivacious Girls Who Open Chautauqua With Two Bright and Colorful Programs

Two programs of splendid music and entertainment will be provided for Chautauqua audiences on the first day by the Liberty Belles of Boston. This company has established a unique record in the Lyceum and Chautauqua world. For two years they have received reports of 100% on every concert presented. Each of the three young ladies comprising the Liberty Belles Company is accomplished as a singer and as an instrumentalist. The variety of entertainment provided is very much greater than is ordinarily possible.

INTERVIEWER OF GREAT MEN

Opening Night Lecturer at Chautauqua Has Had Notable Life Experience in Interviewing Celebrities of England and Europe.

As a correspondent for the New York Journal, Dr. Robert Parker Miles twice crossed the Atlantic to interview the great men of England and Europe. His syndicated articles on Gladstone, Balfour, Bismarck, President Carnot, King Edward, the German Emperor and Pope Leo XIII attracted national attention. Later his articles on New York courts and prisons caused a great wave of reform legislation which occupies a prominent place on the statute books of the Empire State today.

In the past twenty years more than five thousand audiences have heard his great lecture, "Tallow Dips." It is one of the classics of the platform.
